PRESERVATION KENTUCKY Excellence in Preservation Awards

Purpose

Each year thousands of Kentuckians work tirelessly to preserve Kentucky's legacy reflected in our historic buildings, structures, landscapes and prehistoric sites. In 2012, Preservation Kentucky established the Excellence in Preservation Leadership Awards to recognize exceptional accomplishments in the preservation, rehabilitation and interpretation of our architectural and cultural heritage, and distinguish best practices in the field.

Award Categories

Tim Peters and Lois Mateus Making a Difference on Main Street – Inaugural Award

For individuals who have demonstrated outstanding dedication to historic preservation by restoring, rehabilitating and adaptively reusing a commercial or residential building(s) that has served as a catalyst for revitalizing a Main Street corridor. Special consideration will be given for individuals who have renovated a building in communities with a population of 75,000 or less.

Edith S. Bingham Excellence in Preservation Education

For preservation educators, projects or programs that have demonstrated excellence in traditional or nontraditional educational arenas. Includes nonprofit educational programming; archaeology, history or preservation educators in schools or colleges; preservation projects with an educational theme or outcome; and, historic or prehistoric sites with innovative preservation programming.

Linda Bruckheimer Excellence in Rural Preservation

For preservation leaders, projects, or programming devoted to preserving Kentucky's important rural heritage. Includes small town preservation (under 10,000); barn and farmland preservation; rural heritage-based education projects; and, historic architectural or archaeological survey and National Register of Historic Places work intended to preserve rural properties.

Christy and Owsley Brown Excellence in Public Service to Preservation

For Kentucky's elected public officials, civil servants or public sector employees who have demonstrated leadership in preservation public policy on the local, state and/or national level(s).

Helen Dedman Excellence in Preservation Advocacy

For preservation advocates, volunteers or professionals who have shown great commitment of time and resources to furthering historic preservation across the state. Preference is given to those who have worked on local and state levels.

Barbara Hulette Young Excellence as a Young Preservationist under age 40

For young persons who have displayed emerging, dynamic leadership in the field of historic preservation.

David L. Morgan Excellence in State Historic Preservation Tax Credit - Commercial and Residential

Two categories for commercial and residential preservation projects that have demonstrated excellence in rehabilitation using Kentucky's State Historic Preservation Tax Credit since its inception in 2005.

Ann Early Sutherland Excellence in Environmental Preservation

For preservation leaders who have made a strong connection between the preservation of historic places and environmental concerns and understand the relation between the preservation of our built environment and our natural environment. Includes people, historic sites, educational programs and bricks-and-mortar projects.

Patrick Kennedy Excellence in Preservation Craftsmanship

For preservation craftsmen/women who have demonstrated exception traditional building craft techniques and restoration skills on more than one preservation construction project across Kentucky. Preference is given to those who have demonstrated excellence in educating other craftsmen/women in Kentucky.

Excellence in Cultural Heritage Tourism

For an organization, site or attraction that has preserved and advanced Kentucky's architectural, cultural and social history through dynamic interpretation and the promotion of historic resources that contribute significantly to our tourism industry and the preservation of Kentucky's heritage.
